LOOKABAUGH SHORTHORNS

Yours for better and more Shorthorns.

H. C. LOOKABAUGH

Salutation

THIS is the one event to which I have looked forward and for which I have labored since I began the breeding of Shorthorns—the time, though it was years distant, when I could place in my own farm sale ring a collection of the breed, representing in its majority the results of my own efforts, and invite to the ringside breeders and breed critics from all sections with a feeling of satisfaction that they will voice only commendation for what I have done.

But, to myself belongs the least of the credit and that is in the form of fortitude. The broad adaptability of the Red, White and Roan furnished unlimited possibilities, the positive potency of the blood employed served as an invaluable aid, and the recognition lent me by my fellow breeders the stimulus and encouragement to follow my adopted course.

From a strictly monetary point of view the retention of every one of these females in the breeding herd would prove far more lucrative than any appraisal which might be placed on them sale day, but I have felt that their distribution among the class of men who always appreciate cattle of their kind and character will make wider possibilities, a greater reputation and a stronger demand for the progeny and descendants of the late Fair Acres Sultan.

It is blood which has proven wonderfully certain in my own experience, as well as in the hands of former owners of this great sire, in whose herds he left specimens that have made history in breeding pastures and auction rings. The names of Fair Acres Gloster, Rosewood Reserve, Fair Beauty and Fair Sultan are but a few of the many which give testimony to his greatness. By reason of this observation and experience I have great confidence in the performance of these cattle in their future homes.

I not only entertain unrestricted confidence for what they will do for their new owners, but am doing everything within my power to render their purchase a profitable venture to every man who patronizes this sale. I am allowing extension of time, a sixty day retest, the privilege of breeding or rebreeding to any of our herd bulls, a guarantee that will protect, and insurance for one year without cost to the purchaser. These clauses incorporated in the page entitled 'Special Instructions' should portray the faith and confidence I feel in cattle of this tribe, and my interest in every man who makes selections from this offering.

Fieldmen Notes

Mr. Lookabaugh has selected for May 15th the most superb offering of Shorthorns that I have ever seen offered in any sale in the United States.

It is indeed seldom that breeders are afforded the opportunity to purchase such royally bred and internationally famed cattle as these. In the purchase of such individuals you are securing the ultra accomplishment of one of the greatest, among the truly great and really constructive breeding establishments of America.

TOM MANN,
Farm & Ranch, Dallas, Tex.

In my judgment, the best I have ever seen selected for one sale. At the country's foremost shows, they have won high honors for Oklahoma and they should stay in the state. The future welfare of our Shorthorn industry depends upon retaining just such cattle. If these great bulls are beyond the reach of individuals, neighborhood companies should be formed to buy them. Keep them in Oklahoma. You owe this to yourself, to your herd, and to the development of this great state. Can any one estimate the value of such cattle to a community?

TOM MORTON.

The cream of breeding, the cream of individuals, the cream of the produce of H. Clive Lookabaugh. It is not just a state event. It is an epoch in America's constructive work with the greatest breed in the world. Breeders from coast to coast should make Watonga their mecca, May 15th, to witness and participate in the history-making event.

WILL JOHNSON.

"Lookabaugh of Watonga" is a trade name wherever top Shorthorns are bred and grown. "Lookabaugh's Masterpieces" most fittingly describes the 40 lots selected for that May 15th sale. Here are some of the world's Best Shorthorns. So rated because their superiority is proven beyond a doubt. Some of the World's best blood courses through their veins, thus majestically supporting their true greatness.

RALPH W. DAWSON,
Drovers' Telegram, Kansas City, Mo.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO BREEDERS EVERYWHERE.

When H. C. Lookabaugh sets out to accomplish anything, people have come to recognize that it will be done. Mr. Lookabaugh has vision, originality and public spirit, plus indomitable energy. He foresaw the possibilities of the Indian Territory that was to become the great state of Oklahoma, and assisted in the development of its agriculture through the medium of improved live stock, especially Shorthorns. He was first to establish a beginners department and led in many other wise innovations. He showed public spirit by liberal support of boys and girls calf clubs and other activities for the betterment of his community and his state. He has proven that Oklahoma can grow as good Shorthorns as have ever been produced. His show record is remarkable. He proposes that no sacrifice will be spared to make the sale the best offering of the breed ever made upon this continent. Daughters of Avondale will be sold, cows and heifers bred to the grand Champion, Maxwalton Commander, are in offer. Sons and daughters of that wonderful producer of prize winners, Fair Acres Sultan, will pass under the hammer. Even Fair Acres Sultan, Jr., is listed. Surely records could be broken, and something transcendant may be looked for when Fair Acres Sultan, Jr., gets a new owner. Those who enjoy epochal events are due at Watonga, Okla., May 15, 1919.

DAVID C. PATTON,
Of the Shorthorn World.

An admirable combination of herd bull strength, heifers in show form and matrons of proven worth whose usefulness in Shorthorn improvement cannot be gauged in public opinion. The sale should disseminate the lasting impress of the history-making Fair Acres Sultan.

Fair Acres Sultan Snowbird's Sultan

Known the Shorthorn world over as the famous Whitehall Sultan twins—bulls which inherited their greatness from the greatest parents of their time. Wherever Fair Acres Sultan had been used, in the herds of J. A. Kilgour, E. Ogden & Son and Bellows Brothers, he left a trail of outstanding progeny, which, through their individual excellence, show yard accomplishments and the figures which they commanded at public and private treaty, branded him a peer among the leading sires of his day.

His acquisition for use in the Pleasant Valley herd was a masterstroke. The females in the herd furnished him the opportunity to do his greatest work. Since his calves were old enough to enter the show herd, the leading fairs and expositions of the country have not been without an attractive exhibit of Fair Acres Sultan get. A feature of his breeding strength was the extreme uniformity of his get, and his ability to sire both bull and heifer calves of equal promise made his success the more pronounced. Not only has he put outstanding bulls at the head of great herds, but wherever his daughters have been tried they have proven great breeding matrons. So strong has been his breeding strength and so indelible the impress that he has established a trible of cattle bearing his name—a name tha will endure throughout future generations.

On the death of Fair Acres Sultan, a second masterstroke was made —the purchase of his twin brother, Snowbird's Sultan. With this bull came a few of his progeny, listed in this sale, and which will prove him a worthy successor to his illustrious brother. It is now left to him to propogate his tribe in the herd, and in this sale will be found several of the leading females with calves at side by him or in calf to his service.

At this time Maxwalton Commander is not in show shape, but he is as smooth and even fleshed as he was at any time when he was being shown. He is quick and active and a sure breeder.

Fair Acres Sultan Jr. is unquestionably the greatest of all the productions left in the herd by Fair Acres Sultan. He possesses every appearance of a great sire, and I have faith in him duplicating the career of Fair Acres Sultan and Avondale should he fall into proper hands. Pleasant Fair Sultan, one of the three cup winning bulls. First in class, headed the first prize calf herd and member of the first prize get of sire at the state fairs of the southwest last year. Out of the dam of Violet Searchlight, sire of Watonga Searchlight, grand champion of six states, and Belle's Searchlight, second prize aged bull at the St. Louis World's Fair. This is the youngest bull left by Fair Acres Sultan on the farm and should have been named Fair Acres Sultan's Last. Many leading breeders have been sufficiently interested in this calf to inquire for a price, but he was reserved for future use, knowing as I do the value of the blood behind him when wrapped up in such an admirable conformation.
